Tell me about Ashlee Jones Homes?

I wanted to establish a well-respected building company with a focus on good client relationships and quality workmanship. I have more than 15 years industry experience and together with my wife Terri, work from start to finish to create your dream home. Every Ashlee Jones Homes designer home is built and constructed by a team of highly skilled tradesman and we are firm believers in total commitment, hard work and integrity. Ashlee Jones Homes are also registered with the Master Builders Association of Queensland.

You were previously working for Allan Jones Builders, why did you start your own business? Allan Jones is my father and I actually completed my apprenticeship through his business. Under his supervision I was able to gain immeasurable experience on a number of different and varying styles of homes. Allan is a local builder in Cairns and is known for his quality work. I have been very fortunate to have someone of his skill and integrity show me the ropes in the building industry, however I feel now I am at the right stage in my life to make a name for myself and secure a position in the Cairns market as a quality builder.

What services are available to your clients?

We offer a variety of services including new home construction and free quotation. There are a number of plans available, which can be altered to suit a client's needs and wants. I will also build from a client's plans. The team will work hard to ensure client satisfaction and are always on hand to answer any questions.

The building industry is very competitive, how do you plan to stand out?

Quality with pride is our mission statement and that is what we strive to deliver to people when they build their dream home with us. We want to work to ensure our client's dream home is exactly how they envision it and believe word of mouth and reputation is the only way to be competitive in the building industry.

What demographic do your homes target?

We cater to a diverse range of clientele. Our floor plans range from a three-bedroom, two-bathroom home with one living area to four and five-bedroom, two-storey homes. Floor plans can be provided on request by emailing info@ashleejoneshomes.com.au.

Ashlee Jones Homes Display

Ashlee Jones Homes has now opened a new display home at the corner of Castlereagh and Macquarie Streets in Gordonvale. The home showcases the quality and workmanship found in any Ashlee Jones home and this particular home caters towards the larger family demographic. Set on a one acre block, the one-storey, 500sqm home includes a double garage, five bedrooms plus an office, two bathrooms, three living areas and a theatre room. There is also another toilet that can be accessed from outside. A beautiful pivot entry door invites you inside, while the kitchen features quality stainless steel appliances with a living room that extends out to the large patio.

The home's open plan layout and 2.8m high ceilings allow plenty of fresh air to flow throughout and the split system and ducted air-conditioning will come in handy during the hotter months. The clean crisp lines created by the polished porcelain tiles and caesar stone tops extend throughout the home. It is also green friendly with a six-star energy rating, roof insulation, gas hot water and cook top, a 5000-litre rainwater tank and bio-cycle septic system. All Ashlee Jones Homes are finished with the little extras including a clothesline, letter box and driveway. The display home is open by appointment and to organise a viewing contact 4056 3089 or email info@ashleejoneshome.com.au.
